FREE Public Seasonal Flu Shot Clinic Schedule

The Health Sciences Center drive-thru flu shot clinics for immunization against the seasonal flu will be conducted again this year. The clinics will be held on weekends beginning Saturday, October 24, 2009 and will run through Saturday, November 21, 2009, or until the vaccine runs out.

These flu shots are free to everyone. This vaccine should not be confused with the H1N1 flu vaccine, which should arrive sometime in October. A separate schedule will be set up for administering that vaccine. Below are the times and locations of the off-campus public flu clinics:

Please refer to the UNM Flu Clinic Web site for updates and possible cancellations.
